

Ethogram

Choose your dog or a dog at a park to observe. Consider some behaviors they might exhibit and put them on the chart below. Then, watch that particular individual for three minutes. Put an “X” in the column every time you see a specific behavior. If you observe a new behavior, add it to the list. Do this several times a day to see what their common behaviors are. For an even better understanding, observe your dog for several days. There should be an ethogram for each location.
